An Overview of Ololo Safari Lodge & Farm in Nairobi, Kenya

Ololo Safari Lodge and Farm is a secluded luxury lodge surrounded by established gardens overlooking the Nairobi National Park. Ololo's accommodation includes private tented cottages, elegant suites in the historic main house, rooms in the original stables opening onto sunny terraces and comfortable family cottages surrounded by expansive gardens. All the rooms feature eclectic furnishings and handmade furniture created by Ololo's talented carpenters.

We also operate 'Ololo Farm' which runs in conjunction with the Lodge. Ololo Farm produces fresh fruit, vegetables, milk, eggs and meat for our restaurant, 'The Kitchen at Ololo'. We make yoghurt and ice cream with pasteurised milk from our cows. Eggs, mushrooms, pork, chicken and duck meat from the farm are also sold commercially into the Nairobi market. Guests are encouraged to visit Ololo's vegetable gardens, the mushroom house, the chickens, ducks and our family of happy pigs. Children can help milk the cows, and all our guests are welcome to learn and appreciate Ololo's 'Paddock to Plate' philosophy and our regenerative farming practises.

Ololo's guests can enjoy game drives in the Nairobi National Park in our safari vehicles, accompanied by our experienced guides. Nairobi National Park is the oldest national park in Kenya and was gazetted in 1946. The park was established mainly to protect the animals and also to solve the conflict between humans and the increasing wildlife population, so close to Nairobi which was rapidly developing into a city. The local Maasai community bequeathed the land on which the park is located, to the Kenya Colony at the time to be the new 'Nairobi National Park'. The park is renowned for its population of white and black rhino, lions, zebra, leopards, cheetah, giraffe, hippos, crocodile, warthogs and many antelope species. Ololo Safari Lodge has adopted the majestic eland, the largest antelope, for its logo. The park is also home to 430 species of birdlife, and many examples can be spotted around the Ololo gardens. Our unique setting, nestled on the park's southern river border, provides access to an array of wildlife on our doorstep, which makes Ololo a special place to stay.
