ABOUT YANGMEE

Yangmee Lor is a community systems strategist, speaker, and facilitator who works at the intersection of nonprofit funding, organizational readiness, cross-cultural collaboration, and community-centered leadership. She is the creator of Before the Ask™, a practical, research-based tool that helps nonprofits strengthen their funding readiness and plan for sustainable growth.

With experience leading complex initiatives across culturally diverse communities, Yangmee brings a grounded, real-world perspective to conversations about what organizations and communities need to move from good ideas to measurable impact.

> "Real change happens when communities are at the center."
