YUGO TAGUCHI

BIO LONG VERSION

ABOUT ME

Yugo Taguchi is a Japanese artist, selector, tour promoter, record pressing agent, and record salesperson who is currently based in Berlin, Germany. He has dedicated his life to music, living in the present and constantly seeking authenticity.

In 2010, he moved to London where he had the opportunity to interact with many artists and sound engineers. He worked at the renowned record shops "Supertone Records" and "Zen Records," where he experienced the real Rastafarian culture of London through interactions with iconic figures such as Jah Shaka and the Twinkle Brothers. During an event in Brixton, Yugo had a fateful encounter with members of "Bush Chemist," a group based in East London. This meeting led to close relationships with artists well-versed in Conscious Sound, such as Chazbo Chong, Kenny Knots, King General, Dougie Conscious, Culture Freeman, Charlie P, Barry Isaac's, and Singer Blue.

From 2013 to 2016, Yugo organized tours in Japan to introduce the music of Bush Chemist, while also serving as a tour attendant and event manager. While in Europe, Yugo's passion for European music grew, leading him to relocate to France in 2015. He deepened his connections with prominent French artists such as Bigga Ranx, Manu Digital, Josef Cotton, and Junior Roy. During the same period, he was invited as a selector to countries like Italy and Spain, allowing him to immerse himself in the real European lifestyle and gain unique experiences. In 2016,

Yugo moved to Berlin, Germany, and began his career as an artist in late 2017 and early 2018. Combining his sensibility as a sound engineer and his talent as an artist, Yugo has been invited to various European countries, including Germany, the UK, France, Italy, Spain, Poland, and the Czech Republic. He has become recognized as a Japanese artist residing in Europe and has collaborated with numerous artists and sound engineers.

In 2020, he embarked on an Asian tour with Japanese producer "Warrior Dread," showcasing the current state of European music in Asian countries and receiving a great response. Even during the COVID-19 pandemic, Yugo continued to actively engage in music activities, including live streaming and releasing music, and was invited to events in cities outside of Berlin and countries outside of Germany.

In 2021, his knowledge as a sound man and his career as an artist were recognized, and he began working at Blessed Love Records Shop (Buyreggae.com). Through their unique distribution channels, Yugo and Blessed Love Records Shop continue to spread the message of reggae music from Berlin, Germany, to the world, with a wide selection of music from current Jamaican, Japanese, and European labels.

YUGO TAGUCHI BIO SHORT VERSION

Japanese artist Yugo Taguchi, now based in Berlin, is a multifaceted talent in the reggae music scene.

From his beginnings in London 2010, inspiration by legends like Jah Shaka and the Twinkle Brothers, Bush Chemists all crew, to his ventures in France in 2015 spending time with artists such as Bigga Ranx (Telly) and Junior Roy, Ricky Sai Sai, Joseph Cotton etc, Yugo's journey has been a fusion of diverse musical influences.

Settling in Berlin in 2017, he despite the challenges of the pandemic, he became a real artist of himself. His collaborative 2020 Asian tour with "warrior dread" was a hit. Joining forces with blessed love records shop in 2021, Yugo continues to bridge cultural gaps and spread the joy of reggae music through a curated selection of Jamaican, Japanese, and European labels.
