

"Devon Wells is a 19-Year-Old Singer/Songwriter from Madison, WI. Devon has always loved performing- rather it's Musical Theater, Choir concerts, Open Mics, or for his shower head- Devon's heart has always belonged to the stage. Much like their love for performing, Devon's heart has always been center stage, guiding their lyrics and voice as a musician. Weaving Soulful Pop-Rock vocals and Heart-Wrenching lyrics, Devon uses a creative blend of Original music and Covers to tell a story every audience member can resonate with.

With a background in Musical Theater, Pop, Rock, Jazz, and R&B music, Devon has mastered the art of storytelling- using every performance as a chance to connect with audiences on a emotional level- allowing the audience to find themselves immersed in the stories he weaves. Devon draws inspiration from artists like Alex Warren, Benson Boone, Adele, and Lewis Capaldi, who pour their hearts and souls into both their lyrics and vocals- telling compelling stories you can't help but listen to- even when it hurts. Devon's lyrics tell his story- and his voice carries the message- echoing in the hearts of those who listen.

Devon studies at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh- where he will graduate in the spring of 2029 with a Bachelor of Arts in Music Education, and a Bachelor of Music in Vocal Performance. Devon plans to become a Middle and High School Choir teacher, in hopes of inspiring the next generation of musicians to use their music to tell powerful stories and make changes in their communities."
