2. Comments

2.1) What did you like about this course?

 - Clear instructions
 - Dr. Rad is very straightforward and I like how he encourages us to use our resources (such as excel) to solve the problems.
 - Exams were online.
 - I enjoyed the professor most of all, he was kind and funny. the class felt comfortable coming to him for advice on the classwork and the mood of the class was always lighthearted and fun.
 - I liked that the homework was online and we had a fair amount of time to finish them before the due date.
 - I liked the course structure.
 - I liked the homework setup, it gave us the opportunity to focus more on learning the material vs just obtaining a grade.
 - I liked the option to use excel as it applicable to the workplace in my opinion. Along with this, I liked the formatting of the exams as they seemed very close to what was taught.
 - I like how flexible the course is and how well the professor adjust to the students needs. He does a good job understanding our lives and class from our point of view.
 - I like how the course is set up and how much time we spend on each topic. The professor explains things well and does examples with us.
 - I like professor provide the opportunity of group practice after his demonstrate on the example —shijia
 - I like that exams are online.
 - I like that the professor is open to the students' opinion, basically asking us what tools can he provide that will be helpful for us.
 - I like the way the professor runs this class by keeping things simple. I learned a lot of new things.
 - In class examples that students can work on while in groups.
- Professor was approachable, and the class got along with him. HW translated well to the exams. I also like that we could take the exams at home.
 - The ability to take the quizzes from home and tests. The professor had the class well map and when a topic needed more time he reduced other topics that were less important.
 - The clear instruction
 - The course is engaging and well-structured, with clear explanations that make the material easy to follow. The professor's dedication and ability to connect with students enhance the learning experience.
 - The course is straight forward. I like the extra credit opportunity.
 - the lenancy of exam time limits. it really helped me not be stressed during the exam.
 - The material was interesting and could be applied to real life work experiences.
 - The online exams and homework.
 - The professor
 - The professor was kind and fair. He offered extra credit at the end of the semester to help the class.
 - the structure
 - The subject material itself is interesting and the professor seems like he cares about us learning it.
 - Using online application, pearson lab, and online exams
 - Was willing to make changes to help the class
