WHO WE ARE

Global Sourcing. Strategic Solutions.

CRS PLUS is a sourcing and procurement company headquartered in Beirut, Lebanon, serving the telecom, industrial and production-line, construction, and oil & gas sectors. Backed by an international network of verified suppliers, we deliver a distinct competitive advantage through a comprehensive range of services that ensure a seamless, professional, and dependable procurement and logistics chain — from advanced global sourcing and rigorous inspection, testing, and verification to integrated logistics coordination and deep expertise in market pricing dynamics and trade routes.

We work closely with business owners, procurement managers, technical directors, and project managers on projects that demand rigorous sourcing, competitive commercial positioning, well-structured contractual frameworks, and precise logistics execution — with consistent follow-up and clear, professional communication at every stage.

WHAT DRIVES US

MISSION

Our mission is to deliver reliable, efficient, and strategically optimized sourcing and procurement solutions that enable our clients to execute their projects with confidence. Through a combination of global supplier networks, market intelligence, and structured logistics coordination, we ensure competitive positioning, operational precision, and consistent quality across every stage of the procurement process.

VISION

Our vision is to establish CRS PLUS as a trusted regional and international partner in sourcing and procurement, recognized for its reliability, strategic insight, and execution excellence. We aim to continuously expand our global network, enhance our operational capabilities, and play a key role in supporting complex projects across multiple industries — while setting new standards in efficiency, transparency, and value creation.

WHY WE EXIST

THE PROCUREMENT CHALLENGE

Sourcing internationally is where projects are won — and where they quietly fail. Five risks decide the outcome of every cross-border procurement operation.

FRAGMENTED SUPPLIER MARKETS

Verifying quality, capacity, and legitimacy across distant markets is slow — and high-risk when done remotely.

PRICE OPACITY

Quoted prices rarely reflect true market levels across wholesale, manufacturer, and liquidation channels.

SPECIFICATION & QUALITY RISK

Non-conforming technical materials surface late in the project cycle — when replacement is slowest and costliest.

LOGISTICS COMPLEXITY

Multi-border routing, customs clearance, permits, and documentation can stall critical project timelines.

CONTRACTUAL EXPOSURE

Weak terms on warranties, payment, and delivery leave buyers carrying the supplier's risk.

CRS PLUS was built to close these gaps — the following pages show how.

HOW WE DELIVER

SUPPLIER RELIABILITY Quality-to-Cost Outcome

Our network of partnerships with qualified suppliers and field experts for specialized products — built through extensive industry experience — enables us to access, customize, and validate highly technical materials and hard-to-source requirements. This allows us to secure competitive offers, deliver effective solutions, and strategically optimize variables to enhance the quality-to-cost outcome of complex sourcing operations.

GUARANTEES & WARRANTIES Trust in the Quality of Our Service

Our in-depth understanding of diverse national markets — including supplier practices, product value chains, supply and demand dynamics, legal frameworks, market standards, and shipping routes — enables us to secure robust and well-structured terms and conditions, including warranties, replacement agreements, guarantees, testing protocols, and optimized shipping and payment terms.

LOGISTICS The Chain That Never Breaks

Extensive expertise in logistics operations, encompassing inspection, testing, transportation, documentation, import-export regulations, international shipping compliance, special declarations, handling and packaging, warehousing, customs clearance, and the management of official licenses and permits.

COMPETITIVE PRICING Transparent, Market-Tested Rates

Our collaboration with trusted partners, combined with granular visibility across global markets — including wholesale and retail channels, liquidation streams, bulk stock opportunities, manufacturers, distributors, and subsidiaries — enables us to deliver highly competitive pricing. This ensures our clients are optimally positioned to achieve their project and tender objectives with maximum efficiency and value.
