WILDER

Where curiosity leads.

A FAMILY INFORMATION GUIDE

Hi. We're so glad you're here.

If you've felt that something's missing — that learning should feel more alive, more hands-on, more human — you're in the right place. Wilder is a small, intentional learning community in Las Vegas where children learn the way children are built to learn: by doing, making, moving, and connecting.

"Hands first. Screens second. Always."

THE WILDER WAY

What Wilder Is

- ✓ A homeschool enrichment & athletic learning community
- ✓ Small by design — 12 learners max, ages 8 and up
- ✓ Project-based, mixed-age, movement-rich
- ✓ Low-screen and nature-connected
- ✓ A true partnership with your family
- ✓ A place your child is known by name

What Wilder Isn't

- × A traditional private school
- × A daycare or childcare provider
- × A screen-filled classroom
- × A place where your child is one of thirty
- × A replacement for your role as educator
- × A rigid, one-size-fits-all program

The part that matters: Wilder is a homeschool supplemental enrichment and athletic program. Parents remain their child's educator of record and maintain their family's homeschool status — Wilder brings the hands-on days that bring it to life.

Real rhythm.

Real learning.

Warm, unrushed mornings. Real projects with real tools. Time outside and moving. A community that gathers, makes, and explores together — paced to the learners in the room, not a clock or a script.

9:00 AM	Basecamp Check-In Morning community gathering — the day starts together
9:30 AM	Human Performance Movement, fitness, and outdoor time — built into every day
10:15 AM	Discovery Lab & Missions Hands-on, project-based learning across subjects
12:00 PM	Lunch & Free Explore Community meal, unstructured play and connection
1:00 PM	Maker Studio & Builds Art, making, and hands-on creative work
2:30 PM	Campfire & Send-Off Group reflection, sharing, and a calm close to the day

The Seven Circles: Wilder's original year-long curriculum arc — I Am Whole, I Care for Myself, I Belong, I Build, I Give, I Connect, and a final capstone circle — moves learners through connected experiences rather than isolated subjects.

IS WILDER A FIT?

Who Wilder is for.

Wilder is built for Nevada homeschool families looking for a highly engaging, relationship-centered learning community — where children are known, gently challenged, and encouraged to chase what genuinely interests them. It's a great fit for families who want more creativity, more movement, and more outdoor time than a conventional classroom allows, without giving up their role as their child's educator.
