Introduction

NORMIE is a community-owned meme token built on the Solana blockchain with the mission of onboarding everyday people into cryptocurrency.

Originally launched during one of the deepest cryptocurrency bear markets, NORMIE was designed to make crypto more approachable through community participation, meme culture, and decentralized ownership.

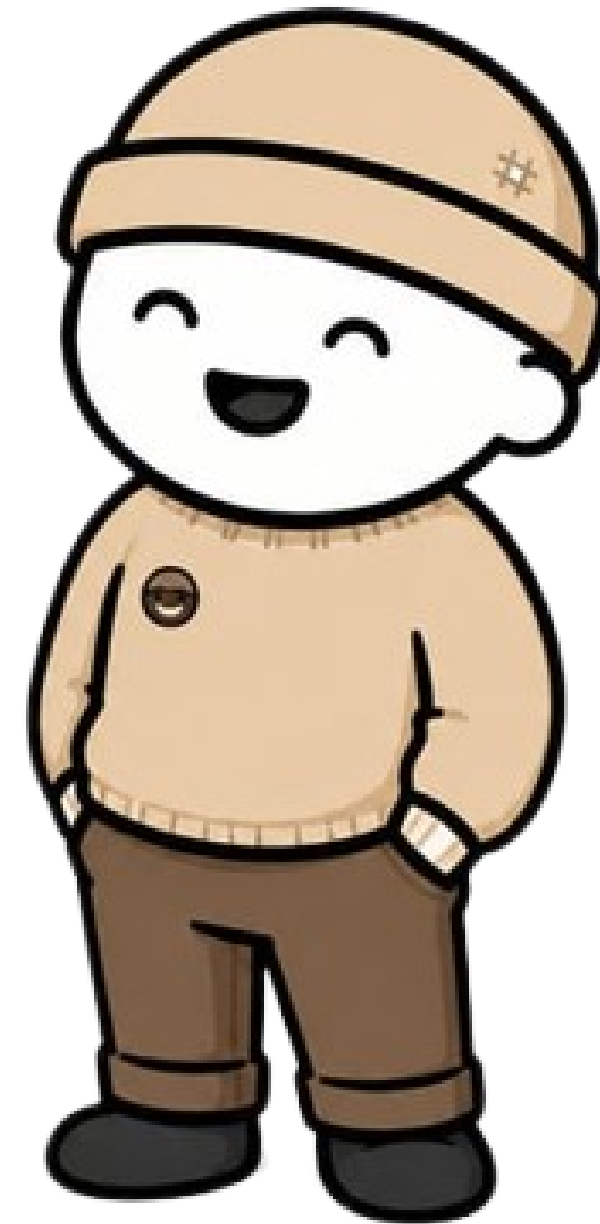

Today, NORMIE is operated through a Community Takeover (CTO) led by Crypto Nakamoto and an active global community.

The project combines the speed and low transaction costs of Solana with an open community-driven ecosystem where holders actively contribute to the growth and direction of the project.

Our Solution

- 1 Community-Owned
- 2 Solana Blockchain
- 3 Community Takeover (CTO)
- 4 Fair Token Distribution
- 5 Low Transaction Costs
- 6 Fast Settlement
- 7 Active Community Development

Community Takeover (CTO)

What is a CTO?

A Community Takeover (CTO) occurs when a cryptocurrency project transitions from its original development team to its community.

Instead of relying on a centralized founding team, the project's future is driven by its holders, contributors, moderators, marketers, developers, and supporters.

NORMIE represents this decentralized philosophy.

The community is responsible for:

- Marketing
- Community Growth
- Exchange Listings
- Partnerships
- Development Initiatives
- Governance Discussions

Community Philosophy

- NORMIE believes that strong communities create long-lasting projects.
- Every holder contributes to the ecosystem through participation, education, promotion, and governance.

Vision & Goals

Vision

To become one of the leading community-driven meme tokens on the Solana ecosystem while introducing millions of everyday users ("Normies") to cryptocurrency.

Mission

Build an inclusive crypto community that promotes:

- Education
- Accessibility
- Decentralization
- Transparency
- Community Ownership

Long-Term Goals

- Expand global community
- Increase exchange listings
- Build strategic partnerships
- Improve ecosystem utilities
- Support decentralized governance
- Increase token accessibility worldwide
